

Ridgmont Lower School.

www.ridgmont-lower.org.uk

Snow and more Snow

Like most other schools in the country the start of the term was disrupted by the snow. The children of course made the most of it and had a great time building snowmen on the playground and having snowball fights with the staff, but I think we were all quite pleased to get back to normal when the thaw eventually came.

Lovely Lunch:

Thank you to all the parents, friends and members of the community who came into school last week to share school lunch with us. The children really enjoyed having visitors at lunch time and they want it to be a regular event.

Enrichment:

Emma and Darren getting the curry started.

For this terms enrichment morning we invited an Indian dancer to come into school to teach the children traditional dance. Each class spent half the morning learning a dance routine and the second half cooking an Indian meal with our 'Lets Get Cooking' co-ordinator. All the children came to get together at lunch time and put on a dance performance to the rest of the school and our visitors. They all had great fun and particularly enjoyed dressing in the traditional costumes, which included bracelets and anklets with bells!

Thank you to all our willing volunteers who make these mornings such a success.

Emma and the boys getting into the rhythm!

Schools together:

Thanks to Husborne Crawley Lower School for arranging a maths information evening for the parents. It was really well attended. We join together again later this term to share a faith tour in Queens Park in Bedford, when we will visit three places of worship, All Saints Church, a Mosque and a Gurdwara as part of our RE curriculum. Just before the Easter holidays all the year 4 children will be together again to share their annual residential trip.

Lynda Clark Headteacher.